

To whom it may concern,

My husband and I hired Weitz Construction to renovate our apartment in the Upper West Side and to renovate our brokerage real estate store front office in the Upper East Side. Our home renovations were on a large scale as we combined 2 apartments and changed layout, created new walls, kitchen, bathrooms, and laundry room. Our office needed essential IT infrastructure in place which required knowledge and understanding.

We were very pleased with the results and with the high quality, on time and within the estimate Weitz Construction provided.

Shimon Weitz respectfully listened to our ideas and implemented those that were achievable, while providing insight and recommendations based on his many years of experience. Shimon was very accessible throughout the process and listened and responded to our questions and requests. Staying on schedule and within the cost estimates, without sacrifice to quality and being honest from start to finish, were indeed, major ingredients in our overall satisfaction. Also, the ease of communication coupled with the company readily availability made the whole process very smooth.

As the owners of BARAK Realty that deals with sales of homes, we hear of many home owner who had unfortunately the unpleasant experiences with construction companies. Therefore, we are so happy to keep referring Weitz Construction to our clients and friends and knowing they are in good hands. We would definitely welcome the opportunity to work with Weitz Construction in the future.
